Leading Political Software Firm Announces New CFO
Dave Sutor commits to innovation and continued growth for DDC

July 10, 2007 -- Alexandria , Virginia. Democracy Data & Communications (DDC), a leading provider of public affairs services and solutions, has named Dave Sutor as their new chief financial officer. Sutor will be a key member of the executive management team and will play an integral part in overall strategic planning for the company.

Sutor will be responsible for enhancing DDC's financial foundation to support its continued growth and increase its ability to meet clients' public affairs needs. "We're thrilled to have Dave join the team," states B.R. McConnon, CEO of DDC. "His expertise will be focused on ensuring we have the financial infrastructure to continue to grow and provide innovative products and services to our clients".

Sutor's background and experience includes several senior-level positions at technology firms, in both financial and operational roles. He comes to DDC from NFR Security, a software security company where, as CFO, he led a $7.5 million financing and a number of other strategic initiatives, which increased shareholder value. Prior to joining NFR, Sutor was the vice president of operations and finance for TiGi Corporation, a data-throughput acceleration business. Other experience includes a number of senior positions at both Mitel, a billion-dollar manufacturer of communications equipment, and Schlumberger and Benson Electronics.
